The heart of the abode of Islam is al-Sham... its covenant is but rule by Islam

The spectra of the Syrian political opposition abroad have begun to declare pacts and covenants for the future Syria as they see it. The Syrian National Council and others with it announced in Istanbul yesterday, 27/03/2012, what they called the "National Pact for the future Syria". Before this, on 25/03/2012, the Muslim Brotherhood in Syria announced a similar covenant which they called "the Covenant and Pact".

These pacts have in common the intent that Syria become a democratic state in which people legislate their own laws, permitting and prohibiting as they wish, instead of legislation and the right to prohibit and permit being for the Lord of the people, the Lord of the Worlds. They also intend Syria to be a secular civil state, in which religion is separated from public life. In such a case, Islam would not be the centre of life, the director and base of laws and canons. The flag of truth, the flag of 'There is no deity save Allah, and Muhammad is the Messenger of Allah', would not be raised. They intend a Syria with man-made laws as a civil republic, not much different from how it is now, except for a change of faces or some cosmetic adornment!

It would not have been surprising had secular opposition parties demanded a secular democratic state, whereby humans legislate and wherein judgment is sought from the laws of East and West, but not the laws of Islam. This would have been understandable had it come from secular movements. However, the painful fact is that it comes from movements branded as being Islamic! So the matter is graver and the danger is greater.

The people of al-Sham did not expend their pure blood, make those great sacrifices, rise up from the masjid shaded by the reverberations of takbeer, raising the call of truth...they did not do all this to return to how they were, ruled by the laws for which Allah (swt) has not sent down any authority! They will not accept that their blood goes to waste or that their sacrifices go in vain. Nay, they will not be content with having other than the rule of Islam, for they are the people of al-Sham, their land is the heart of the abode of Islam. The Messenger of Allah (saw) said,"

"أَلَا إِنَّ عُمْرَ دَارِ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ الشَّامُ"، "عُمْرُ دَارِ الْإِسْلَامِ بِالشَّامِ"

"Behold, indeed the heart of the abode of the believers is al-

Sham" (Ahmad), and "The heart of the abode of Islam is al-Sham" (Tabarani). This will be a matter of reality by the leave of Allah, in spite of the enemies of Allah and what they desire.

O Muslim in Syria,

It is clearly apparent in these pacts and those from whom they come that they seek to please the West. Hence they do not mention the rule of Islam, in an Islamic land, or the state of Islam, the Khilafah Rashidah. Thus, there is nothing in these pacts said for the sake of Allah. Rather, it is all so that the West remains appeased! The Messenger of Allah (saw) said,

”مَنْ أَسْخَطَ اللَّهَ فِي رِضَا النَّاسِ سَخَطَ اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ، وَأَسْخَطَ عَلَيْهِ مَنْ أَرْضَاهُ فِي سَخَطِهِ، وَمَنْ أَرْضَى اللَّهَ فِي سَخَطِ النَّاسِ رَضِيَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى عَنْهُ وَأَرْضَى عَنْهُ مَنْ أَسْخَطَهُ فِي رِضَاهُ حَتَّى يُزَيِّنَهُ وَيُزَيِّنَ قَوْلَهُ وَعَمَلَهُ فِي عَيْنِهِ“

"He who displeases Allah in pleasing the people, Allah will be displeased with him and will make displeased with him those whom he seeks to please through displeasing Allah, and he who pleases Allah in displeasing the people, Allah will be pleased with him and will make pleased with him those whom he displeased through seeking the pleasure of Allah, such that He will adorn him and his word and deed in their eyes." (Tabarani)

Where are these covenants with respect to the covenant of the Prophet (saw) when he came to Madinah wherein he declared,

”الْمُسْلِمُونَ تَتَكَافَأُ دِمَاؤُهُمْ وَيَسْعَى بِدِمَتِهِمْ أَدْنَاهُمْ، وَيَرُدُّ عَلَيْهِمْ أَقْصَاهُمْ، وَهُمْ يَدُّ عَلَى مَنْ سِوَاهُمْ“

"The blood of the Muslims is equal; the least and lowest of them can offer their protection and vouch for their security, and they are one body against all others"? (Ibn Majah)

These people, those ascribed to Islam from them in particular, have strayed far from the truth in the adoption of these pacts, to the extent that it is feared upon them what Allah, the Exalted, said,

﴿أَلَمْ تَرَ إِلَى الَّذِينَ يَزْعُمُونَ أَنَّهُمْ آمَنُوا بِمَا أُنزِلَ إِلَيْكَ وَمَا أُنزِلَ مِنْ قَبْلِكَ يُرِيدُونَ أَنْ يَتَحَاكَمُوا إِلَى الطَّاغُوتِ وَقَدْ أُمِرُوا أَنْ يَكْفُرُوا بِهِ وَيُرِيدُ الشَّيْطَانُ أَنْ يُضِلَّهُمْ ضَلَالًا بَعِيدًا﴾

"Have you not seen those who claim that they have believed in what was revealed to you and what was revealed before you? They want to take their disputes to the Tāghūt, while they were ordered to reject it. Satan wants to mislead them to a remote wrong way." [al-Nisa': 60]

Hizb ut-Tahrir warns them about the evil they have done, both those who label themselves as secularists and those who label themselves as Islamists. Indeed al-Sham is the heart of the abode of Islam. Its pact and covenant is to rule by Islam. Everything else is scum that passes away in vain, returning to those who adopted it with disgrace in this world and punishment in the hereafter. We warn, more so, those who believe in Allah and the Last Day, from the consequence of adopting the rule of Jahiliyya instead of the rule of Islam, for it is a grave consequence which we wish not for a Muslim who reads in the Book of Allah,

﴿أَفَحُكْمَ الْجَاهِلِيَّةِ يَبْغُونَ وَمَنْ أَحْسَنُ مِنَ اللَّهِ حُكْمًا لِقَوْمٍ يُوقِنُونَ﴾

"Is it, then, the judgement of (the days of) Ignorance that they seek?
Who is better in judgment than Allah, for a people who believe?"

We also caution all the Muslims in Syria and say to them: the West is disbelieving, in its civilisation and its systems, and is oppressive in its practices. America, its leader, is not concerned about your dire situation in the least. It is comfortable with all those killed by Bashar the criminal, because this rids for her the sincere amongst you, paving the way for her to establish a new rule. She is the root of the disease, so do not seek from her the cure. Nay, the cure is from Allah, the Exalted, and it only comes from following his revelation with sincerity. He, the Exalted, says,

﴿وَنُنزِّلُ مِنَ الْقُرْآنِ مَا هُوَ شِفَاءٌ وَرَحْمَةٌ لِّلْمُؤْمِنِينَ وَلَا يَزِيدُ الظَّالِمِينَ إِلَّا خَسَارًا﴾

"And We send down of the Qu'ran that which is a healing and a mercy to the believers; and the disbelievers it increases not, except in loss."

We also give glad tidings, to the Muslims in general and the people of al-Sham in particular, that the end is for the believers, so let them stay firm on the truth they are upon, and let them continue resonating the call of 'Allahu Akbar' knocking the ears of the tyrants until the command of Allah comes with goodness and victory, even if the disbelievers and oppressors detest it.

﴿إِنَّا لَنَنْصُرُ رُسُلَنَا وَالَّذِينَ آمَنُوا فِي الْحَيَاةِ الدُّنْيَا وَيَوْمَ يَقُومُ الشَّهَادَةُ﴾

"We will, without doubt, help our messengers and those who believe, in this life and on the Day when the Witnesses shall stand forth." □

وَمَنْ أَعْرَضَ عَن ذِكْرِي فَإِنَّ لَهُ مَعِيشَةً ضَنْكًا

"Whosoever turns away from My Reminder (Qur'an) verily,"

With Pakistan's national budget expected at the end of May 2012, the Presidency's spokesman Farhatullah Babar said on 8 February, "There should be a paradigm shift in the policy to provide relief to the common man." It is not enough for us to understand that this government does not care about the sufferings of the people, rather it must be understood that no government under this current capitalist system can ever bring prosperity, or even the very least of it, "relief" from hardship, even after another sixty years.

Since Pakistan was established, successive rulers have implemented an exploitative capitalist system, which benefits only the Western colonialist and the traitor agents within the military and political leadership. Until now, the traitors and their Western masters have usurped hundreds of billions of dollars worth of the Ummah's wealth over decades, using the existing capitalist system, which by design concentrates the wealth in the hands of the few, as has happened everywhere, including the Western world. This wealth is more than enough to meet the basic needs of the population and free Pakistan from the need of any loans. As for the future, even if new rulers are approved by Washington or London to replace the existing ones, either through elections on the civilian side or retirement and promotion on the military side, the hardship will only increase because these traitor rulers shall be implementing the same kufr capitalist system.

It is only when the sincere and aware politicians of Hizb ut Tahrir secure the Nussrah from sincere officers within the armed forces and establish the Khilafah, that the Muslims will not only witness relief, they will enjoy a surge in economic prosperity, through the implementation of Islamic economic system.

O Muslims of Pakistan!

You will never see relief from the hardship of unaffordable electricity, gas, kerosene, diesel or petrol, under this system. In capitalism, public resources, whose huge value should grant benefit for the entire society, are handed over through privatization to a few capitalists, the traitors and their closest henchmen, to exploit for personal profit. Accordingly the prices of energy, when it is available, have increased many folds in a few years, crippling industry and leading to a surge in unemployment, with millions of youth wandering the streets, without hope. Only once Hizb ut Tahrir establishes the Khilafah will you see relief in terms of affordable and available energy. This is because in the Khilafah system, public properties can neither be privatized nor even nationalized, rather the people are its actual owners, whilst the state only administers them on people's behalf. RasulAllah (saw) said,

“الْمُسْلِمُونَ شُرَكَاءُ فِي ثَلَاثِ الْمَاءِ وَالْكَلْبِ وَالنَّارِ”

"The Muslims are partners in three things, waters, feeding pastures and fire" (Ahmad)

Accordingly, all energy resources, including oil and gas wells, coal mines and electricity generation plants will never be privatized. So, the Khilafah will never profiteer from these public properties, rather it will ensure they benefit the entire society. This will significantly reduce the prices of power and fuel, providing relief for the masses and new life to the crippled industry and agricultural sector. Moreover, Islam has mandated that the revenues generated through the export of these public properties are placed in the Khilafah's treasuries and spent on all the citizens of the Khilafah, regardless of their race, gender, language or religion. And you know by now that only Hizb ut Tahrir is aware of such matters and sincere to implement it.

O Muslims of Pakistan!

You will never see relief from the hardship of crippling taxes under the current system. In capitalism, the ruler has the oppressive "right" to impose taxation, whenever and however he likes. In fact over the past sixty years, colonialist agent rulers, from the military and the political leaderships, have successively increased taxation to the point that today, GST and other indirect taxes make up more than half of the total revenue of the state, causing misery for tens of millions. Only once Hizb ut Tahrir establishes the Khilafah will you see relief from crippling taxes, because RasulAllah (saw) said,

“لَا يَدْخُلُ الْجَنَّةَ صَاحِبُ مَكْسٍ”

"The collector of taxes will not enter heaven" (Ahmad)

Accordingly, the state is not allowed to tax the people at will or in response to demands from the World Bank and IMF. The revenues for the Khilafah's state treasury are only those ordained by Allah (swt) .In Islam, the people's private property has sanctity and the Khilafah state cannot rob its citizens under the guise of "taxation". Only Allah (swt) decides which revenues are fair as well as who are able to pay them. Islam has its own unique system of revenue collection, including revenue from public properties, such as gas and oil, copper and gold, agricultural production, such as ushr and kharaj, and industrial manufacture through Zakah on goods, which will generate funds for looking after the people, without oppressing them. And you know by now that only Hizb ut Tahrir is aware of such matters and sincere enough to implement it.

O Muslims of Pakistan!

You will never see relief from the hardship of barely affordable food, clothing and shelter, under the current system. The current rulers implement the capitalist policy of fiat currency, printing more and more new paper money, decreasing the value of the money that is already in circulation and is in your pockets, raising the prices to unbearable levels. The rupee that was once worth over eleven grams of silver before the British occupation, after over two hundred years of the capitalist system is now worth less around one nine hundredth's of a gram of silver! And with each passing month of kufr rule, it is worth less and can buy less. Only once Hizb ut Tahrir establishes the Khilafah will you see relief in rising prices, because Islam mandates that each coin and note is backed by real wealth i.e Gold and Silver. RasulAllah (saw) commanded the Muslims to mint Gold Dinars, weighing 4.25g, and Silver Dirhams, weighing 2.975g, as the currency of the state. This is why the Khilafah enjoyed stable prices for over a thousand years. And you know by now that only Hizb ut Tahrir is aware of such matters and sincere enough to implement it.

O Muslims of Pakistan!

You will never see relief from the misery and despair of huge unemployment under the current system. Majority of Pakistan's population is rural based and possesses excellent and abundant agricultural resources, but under the colonialist system ownership of land is separated from its cultivation, so those who cultivate lands do not actually own it, but pay a lease to the actual owner. They are forced to seek jobs in the cities as they cannot make ends meet. Only once the Khilafah is established will you see a surge in rural production. Uniquely, Islam links the ownership of land with its cultivation. RasulAllah (saw) said,

“مَنْ أَعْمَرَ أَرْضًا لَيْسَتْ لِأَحَدٍ فَهُوَ أَحَقُّ”

"Whosoever cultivated a land that is not owned by anybody, then he deserved it more." (Bukhari)

Islam has also stipulated to take back the agricultural land from his owner if not cultivated for three consecutive years. This will ensure the full utilization of the agricultural land by the owner which will increase agricultural production. The Khilafah state will provide grants or loans without interest for anyone who can cultivate lands. So, within months, there will be an increase in both cultivation of land and increased rural livelihood. And you know by now that only Hizb ut Tahrir is aware of such matters and sincere ...Cont. on p. 36

In 6 weeks, UK Coalition government has invited Bahrain's tyrant to lunch and visited the Uzbek tyrant, Karimov

London, UK, April 9th 2012 - The 'king' of Bahrain Hamad bin Isa Al Khalifa has been invited to join the UK's Queen at her Diamond Jubilee banquet despite his ongoing and bloody repression of those protesting against his UK installed regime.

As ever, the British government talks strongly about freedom and human rights in regions where it suits them, but maintains the status quo when it suits them.

Commenting on this development, Taji Mustafa, media representative of Hizb ut-Tahrir in Britain said: "With one face Cameron and Hague piously preach about how the UK is on the side of the people calling for change in the Muslim world, while with the other they still warmly engage with butchers in Bahrain and elsewhere - just as they did with Assad, Ben Ali, Gaddafi, and Mubarak until their positions became unsustainable." "They appease them by encouraging them to make reforms, and justify the double standards by arguing that '... the situation in different countries is different.'"

"The Bahraini government has murdered unarmed protesters; arrested medical staff for treating injured protesters, and arrested and tortured political opponents. Yet the UK government continues to sell arms to this regime, approving exports of tear gas and crowd control ammunition to its ally over the past year alone." "Just a few weeks ago, Philip Hammond, UK Defence Secretary made a tour of tyrant-led Central Asian republics, and met Islam Karimov, President of Uzbekistan and one of the world's most ruthless dictators, in Tashkent to discuss closer military co-operation."

"People in the Muslim world must realise that capitalist states like Britain will support tyrants and butchers if it means business contracts and strategic advantages. And they will dump them and look for people to serve their interests when their positions are untenable."

"Real change will only come when there is a new way of thinking in the region and by replacing regimes that serve the tyrants and foreign interests with a new system - the Caliphate, which will stand up to western imperialism in all its forms, and look out for the interests of the people. We believe that increasingly this is what the protestors in the Middle East are marching towards." [Ends]□

Kayani and civilian traitor rulers have descended to filthy tactics to stop Hizb ut Tahrir Raid on Weekly Dars of Hizb ut Tahrir in Lahore, more than 15 arrested and sent to jail on Judicial Remand

On 29th March, Government thugs attacked Hizb ut Tahrir weekly Dars in the Model Town area of Lahore and arrested more than 15 people. A case was lodged against them according to the Anti-Terrorism Act, Clause 11-W, and today, 30th March, they were sent to jail on judicial remand. To humiliate these sincere and educated youngsters, they were presented in front of Media head-covered. The residents of the house, in which this Dars was being held since many years, were tortured severely. The father and all three sons were arrested and they were beaten to bleeding in front of the mother, inside the house. This was done only because this noble family is desires Khilafah and supremacy for Islam.

Do these agencies act similarly against the people who have rented out their houses to Blackwater? Do they raid the brothels that are now spread across Lahore? Never, ever! According to some media reports, this Raid was done in response to the video posted on Youtube by Hizb ut Tahrir, in which Hizb ut Tahrir has exposed the treachery of General Kayani and General Pasha and then conducted an sms campaign for its publicity. The reality is that, this raid in Lahore and earlier in Islamabad is to stop Hizb ut Tahrir's campaign against the probable re-opening of NATO supply routes. Zardari and Kayani know with surety that this Ummah hates America and their treachery has been exposed after the Abbottabad and Salala attacks. To cover up their treachery, the supply line was temporarily blocked, but it was not enough to calm the anger of the people. Now when these agents want to re-open this American lifeline, they see a threat from a mass movement lead by a party like Hizb ut Tahrir.

The government knows that the real enemy of the current ...Cont. on p. 36

Cameron's Extremism and Islam: a Dishonest Salesman Lying about Democracy

London, UK, April 12th 2012 - In today's speech in Indonesia, UK Prime Minister David Cameron called on the Muslim world to "embrace democracy" and reject the region's growing calls for Islamic governance which he labelled "extremism".

Commenting on his speech, Taji Mustafa, media representative of Hizb ut-Tahrir in Britain said: "While conveniently silent about the UK's support for authoritarian dictators like those in Saudi Arabia, he painted an incomplete picture of democracy and criticised four types of people who oppose it."

"When he criticised 'authoritarian leaders', he did not mention that successive British governments had supported such regimes for their own ends; that he has invited the authoritarian 'King' of Bahrain to the UK Queen's jubilee celebration; that in February 2012 his government visited Uzbekistan's Islam Karimov, one of the most brutal and murderous tyrants in the world."

"When he criticised 'corrupt elites' recognising the truth that 'corruption denies the people their economic and political stake' he did not say that democratic government - from Westminster to Islamabad and Dhaka - inevitably breeds corruption. He seems to have forgotten that last month a senior member of his own party was caught 'selling' private dinner invitations with him to Britain's own corporate elite, where they might influence policy, if they donated to his party."

"When he criticised 'tribalists' he did not say that in the UK and Europe there is growing racism and violent intolerance towards minorities - including Muslims and immigrants. Indeed, fewer and fewer people in Britain seem bothered as it increasingly treats its Muslim citizens as second class, locking up several Muslims for years, without charge or trial or even showing them the evidence against them."

"When he raised the issue of 'extremism', he deliberately mixed the small number of cases of those who promote violence, with those who promote Islamic governance as a better and more just system than democracy - some of whom have never believed in a violent method of ...Cont. on p. 37

Hizb ut-Tahrir Wilayah Afghanistan Organizes Conference in the Capital on Corruption, Causes and Solution

Kabul, 5th April, 2012: Hizb ut-Tahrir wilayah Afghanistan organized a conference on corruption, which is rampant in Afghanistan. Speakers of the conference shed light on the reality, reasons, and causes of the phenomenon and on the question of why corruption has plagued the Afghan society. Moreover, they discussed solutions to corruption and many other problems related to this issue. They presented the Islamic ideological viewpoint, which is able to solve the problems that are destroying core values of Afghan society. Speakers said that only complete implementation of Islam can make corruption history.

The conference had two parts. The first part consisted of two speeches which was followed by two documentary films; "Democracy, the root cause of corruption" and "Awakening of the Muslim Ummah". In the second part, questions from the audience were answered.

In the first speech, the core reason of corruption was discussed. It was emphasized that the Kufir Democratic system and its thoughts about prosperity in this life is the true cause of corruption. It is because of such thoughts emanating from and propagated by this capitalist system, coupled with the corruption of puppet rulers and the inability of the system to solve basic problems of citizens that has caused widespread corruption. Lack of loyalty of citizens to the system - because of contradiction of the capitalist democratic system and its values with Islamic ideological values upheld by people - was described as another major cause of corruption, because people disregard rules and laws of a system which is not based on their aqeeda.

To the question of the solution to administrative corruption in the government, it was said that corruption is the problem of capitalism, just as geopolitical disputes and tensions between countries such as Iran and Gulf countries, Pakistan and Afghanistan are the problems created by geopolitical fabric designed by capitalist states. Not only corruption but any other problems created by capitalism will be gone once the capitalist system and its democratic system of government is uprooted from the Muslim lands.

The second speaker pointed to the fact that corruption is caused by privatization and absolute freedoms, especially freedom of ownership. Countries that have been under the (military or political) control of the bearers of capitalist ideology are badly affected by the impact of such capitalist ideas of economic and social liberties and secularism. Iraq, Afghanistan and Somalia are best examples of this.

In the second speech a comprehensive solution of all mentioned problems was discussed. Principles and mechanisms devised by Islam, such as Haram and Halal for actions, distribution of wealth, utilization of resources, uniting the strength of the Muslims Ummah in terms of resources and trade within the Muslims lands was defined as a practical mechanism to increase economic vibrancy and wealth creation. It was said that this is not possible unless the Ummah folds and put in the dustbin of history the geopolitical system created by colonialist Kafir states at the end of World War I after the removal of the Khilafah system in Turkey in early 20th century. The importance of establishment of the state (Khilafah state) to achieve these objectives was reiterated.

Government officials, tribal leaders, analysts, politicians, students and teachers had come from across the country to participate in the conference. Participants warmly welcomed efforts of Hizb ut-Tahrir for organizing the conference on a topic which has caused widespread anger and disappointment among Afghan's. □

Question and Answer: Russian Gas Deal

Question:

On 22/2/2012 the Russian President issued instructions to the Russian gas company "Gazprom" to begin setting up the "South Stream" pipeline, which carries gas through the territorial waters of Turkey to Europe, at an annual of 63 billion cubic meters, and before that on December 28, 2011 an agreement allowing for the pipeline project "South Stream" was signed, which is opposing the project and the alternative to the pipeline project "Nabucco" which is supported by the West...

What made Turkey accept the Russian project "South Stream" after it outrightly rejected it, and then adopt in its place the project "Nabucco"? Is it a deal between Russia and Turkey, backed by America? And if this understanding is correct then what is about that deal?

Answer:

The reason for this change in Turkey's stand is made clear from the reality of projects Nabucco and Southern Corridor, and the circumstances surrounding the two projects:

First: the gas pipeline Nabucco:

Nabucco pipeline is a pipeline with the length of 3900 km, and a capacity of 31 billion cubic meter. Those behind its establishment are the European Union and Turkey, backed by America, to transport natural gas from the countries bordering the Caspian Sea to Turkey then to Austria via Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary. The line is from Erzurum in Turkey to "Baumgarten an der March", which is the main headquarters for natural gas in Austria.

The route's pipeline avoids passing through Russia therefore; Russia describes the Nabucco project as "anti-Russian."

The project relied initially on the export of natural gas from Turkmenistan, which has the fourth largest gas reserves in the world, but the interference of Russia within Turkmenistan made it not possible for Turkmenistan to participate. So since the beginning of 2008 there was thinking over alternative sources, which eventually inclined towards the gas in Azerbaijan.

The preparation for the project started in February 2002, coinciding with the first talks between the two companies, Austrian OMV and Turkish Boattash. In June 2002, there were five companies: (OMV of Austria, MOL of Hungary, Bulgargaz from Bulgaria, Transgaz of Romania, BOTAŞ of Turkey). They signed a protocol of intention to construct the Nabucco pipeline. The protocol followed by the cooperation agreement in October 2002. In December 2003, the European Commission awarded a grant in the amount of 50% of the estimated total eligible cost of the feasibility study including market analysis, and technical, economic and financial studies. On 28 June 2005, the joint venture agreement was signed by five Nabucco partners. The ministerial statement on the Nabucco pipeline was signed on 26 June 2006 in Vienna. On 12 September 2007, Jozias van Aartsen was nominated by the European Commission as the Nabucco project coordinator. In February 2008, German RWE became a shareholder of the consortium.

On June 11, 2008 the first contract was signed so the Nabucco pipeline of gas can run through Azerbaijan to Bulgaria.

On January 19, 2009 the Prime Minister of Turkey Rajap Tayyip Erdogan stated that Turkey may withdraw from the Nabucco project if the negotiations about Turkey's entry into the European were kept disrupted. The Nabucco Summit was held in Budapest on January 27, 2009. At the summit the President of the European Investment Bank (EIB) and the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development (EBRD) stated that they are ready to give financial support to the Nabucco gas pipeline.

On January 29, 2009, the President of Azerbaijan, Ilham Aliyev, said that Azerbaijan was planning at least to double its production of gas in the next five years to supply the pipeline.

On July 13, 2009 Turkey and some countries from the European Union signed an agreement to leave the Nabucco pipeline project, which will supply gas to Europe from Central Asia and the Middle East via Turkey. The deal could reduce EU dependence on the Russian gas.

The Prime Ministers of Turkey, Austria, Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary signed the agreement, allowing the line to pass through its territory and implement a coalition of private companies through the Nabucco Summit. that was held in the Turkish capital of Ankara on 13/7/2009.

Turkey hopes ardently to enter the EU by working with the Nabucco project, to establish a European stance so that it can be the center of energy for the West.

S econd: "South Stream" project:

The gas pipeline that transports Russian gas through the Black Sea to Bulgaria, Greece, Italy and Austria is expected to end in 2015. The project appears to meet the planned Nabucco pipeline and eliminates of its effectiveness even eliminating it because the Nabucco pipeline ignores Russia by not passing through it, and Russia considers it as a legislated aggression.

The project announced on 23/6/2007, through signing an agreement between Russia and Italy which took place in Rome between Eni Paolo Scaroni company and the Russian company "Gazprom"..

On 22/11/2007, the two companies signed a final agreement regarding the project in Moscow. Russia has made great effort to convince the European countries to sign the project. Russia and Bulgaria signed on 01/18/2008. Russia and Hungary signed on 25/01/2008. Greece and Russia on 29/4/2008.

On 15/5/2009 Russia, Italy, Bulgaria, Serbia and Greece signed an agreement for the construction of South Stream. Thereafter on 14/11/2009 Russia signed with Slovenia and affirmed on 21/3/2011 and then Russia signed with Croatia on 2/3/2010.

Turkey had opposed the project, with its weight and that of the European Union, and behind them is the United States to promote the Nabucco project ... Russia and Turkey entered into a conflict over the draft for the South Stream ... On 28/12/2011 Turkey approved the project and allowed the passage into its territorial waters in the Black Sea.

According to the "Middle East" paper, Russian Prime Minister, Vladimir Putin had announced on 28/12/2011 that Ankara had agreed to build a natural gas pipeline, South Stream, through Turkish territorial waters in the Black Sea.

The Interfax Russian news agency stated that the announcement was made by Putin in Moscow, during the signing ceremony that a contract between the executives of the Gazprom Russian national gas company, a gas monopoly, and the Turkish Energy Foundation BOTAŞ in the presence of Turkish Energy Minister Taner Yildiz. The project South Stream is a joint venture owned by Russia, Italy, Germany and France, allowing the pipeline to connect South Stream, which will be at the bottom of the Black Sea, to the natural gas fields in the Caspian Sea, for consumers in southern and central Europe. This allows the pipeline in Turkey's relatively shallow waters, so that the project avoids passing more expensively through deeper international waters.

Reuters quoted Putin in Moscow on Wednesday, 28/12/2011 saying: "I would like to thank the Turkish government for its decision to allow the construction of South Stream pipeline in the economic zone, Turkey."

On 3/10/2011 a company called "South Stream Transport AG" was incorporated for the construction of the line and running it on behalf of the following companies: Russia's Gazprom, Eni of Italy, Électricité of France and the German Wintershall.

The four companies shared this quota as follows: 50% Gazprom, Eni 20%, Électricité 15% and Wintershall 15%.

The South Stream project is a rival to the Nabucco pipeline project. Note that the South Stream cost is between 19 - 24 billion Euros, which is almost double the Nabucco, costing about 12 billion Euros.

The project aims to provide Western Europe with Russian natural gas by passing under the Black Sea crossing to Bulgaria, Hungary, Serbia and Slovakia. The project consists of four parallel pipelines, 940 km in length each, and this project has the ability to produce 63 billion cubic meters annually.

The project, which will be operational at the end of 2015, is supposed to compete with the Nabucco gas pipeline project, which is supposed to supply gas to Western Europe with Caucasus gas through Turkey and the Balkans, thus avoiding transit through Russia.

Third, the above shows that the Nabucco Project was to ignore Russia through avoiding passage through its territory, but through the territory of Turkey to Europe. Turkey strongly supports and hopes to strengthen its case to enter the European Union, as being the significant key link that transports gas from the Caspian Sea regions to Europe, without passage through Russia. Showing that the South Stream Project is a Russian project to weaken the Nabucco Project, or eliminate it.

It is Turkey's interest to keep control over the transfer of gas to Europe to a large extent, which is not substantially achieved by the South Stream project ... The question: What made Turkey sign an agreement over South Stream from its territorial waters and is it aware that the Russian project is intended primarily to compete with Nabucco, eliminating its usefulness?

The Turkish government appeared to show that it has agreed to the South Stream agreement, in return for Russia's agreement on "Samsun Geyhan" gas lines. This came as a justification for Turkey's agreement after opposing the project strongly.

But this justification does not make a case, in two ways:

Firstly: The South Stream project was originally established to bring opposition for Nabucco by ignoring Russia. Russia had worked to abolish the South Stream project and that is not about "Samsun Geyhan" gas line. Every political observer knows that the South Stream Project is due to the opposition of the Nabucco Project.

Secondly: the route of the Samsun Geyhan gas lines are in between two ports in Turkey, and they pass through Turkey alone. They can establish it without any fuss, with some understandings about the transportation of gas through it. But it is portrayed as if Russia relinquished agreement to Samsun Geyhan and that Turkey gave up the agreement on the South Stream!

The most correct view concerning the consent of Turkey on the South Stream after strong opposition towards it was something else. This consent came after Turkey's approval for setting up missile defense radars in its territory in response to a request by America on behalf of NATO, and the issue is as follows:

In autumn 2011 a new subject was initiated, about a missile shield designed and constructed by America, with part of the shield being giant radars...

America was thinking at first to erect it in some Eastern Europe countries. When Obama came to power, he installed it in Turkey on behalf of NATO as Turkey is a part of the NATO alliance. This allows for radar surveillance in the south-eastern direction for a distance of thousands of kilometers. Turkey announced on 9/1/2012 the approval of early warning radar on its territory, as part of the missile shield intended for NATO deployment in Europe.

The Turkish Ministry of Foreign Affairs stated earlier: "Turkey welcomes the establishing in our country early warning radar deployed by the United States for NATO. It will be a contribution to our country in defense, developed in the context of the new strategic concept for NATO, enhancing the defense capability of NATO and our national defense."

The Turkish news agency "Anatolia" carried a statement from the spokesman for the Turkish Foreign Ministry about the radar site located in the city of Malatya, which lies about 400 miles, around 650 kilometers, south-east of Ankara, the capital ... He pointed out that he managed the mediation of the two armies, the Turkish and the US military.

Turkey is one of the five European countries that expressed willingness to host bases for the missile system, which was designed in the United States. America was welcomed by Portugal, Poland, Spain and Romania for establishing parts of that system on their territories.

America has radars in Turkey monitor hostile missiles, whilst it has missiles in Poland and Romania and operation centers located in Germany.

Note that there are four anti-ballistic missiles in the town of Rota, Spain.

In his justification of the approval by Turkey to deploy radar, Gul said in a Turkish television interview after the approval, "NATO adopted this defense system and decided to deploy it in a number of states that are members in the NATO. Turkey accepted as a member of NATO to deploy the radar system on its territory, in keeping with its obligations in NATO Charter." Gul added, "The radar system which was deployed in the east of the country several months ago, came within a range of defense tasks of NATO against the danger of ballistic missiles that threatens NATO countries."

However, the Turkey approval resulted in a confrontation with Russia. Therefore, Putin in his speech, after the approval of Turkey, said, "Russia will arm itself strongly decisively in order to meet Western threats, specifically its missile shield that is deployed to the east in Europe and to the south in Turkey."

Fourth, and so matters were strained between Russia and Turkey with a series of statements by Russian officials over the Turkish approval:

"The new project of shield deployment, including the radar installation in Turkey, covers the whole of south Russia, especially the Black Sea and the Caucasus, where there are many Russian military bases and it will be under the control of NATO," said Savkin Nikolai, who is a researcher at the "Centre of Strategic Research" based in Moscow, whilst commenting on the radar installation in Turkey, after Turkey declared its approval on 1/9/2011.

-On 10.10.2011 (source aljazeera from German media) "Foreign Minister Sergei Lavrov reiterated his government's opposition to the deployment of that system, saying that Moscow would undertake rapid retaliatory action in the case that it is established. The only country targeted by the NATO plan and which will have its arms affected, is Russia. He added in an interview with the Austrian Profile magazine, "We are told that the system is not aimed at us, but they (NATO) refused to pledge a formal commitment of the treaty. We can retaliate without great effort or huge costs. "

- On 11.23.2011 (Source EUR News) "If the situation continues to evolve contrary to Russian interest, we reserve the right to discontinue the resolution to implement arms control, and he threatened, Russia will deploy in the west and the south of the country, advanced offensive weapons which will target the European component of the [U.S.] missile defense," said the Russian President, Dmitry Medvedev.

- On 11.29.2011 (Source BBC) Russia has established a new missile early warning system in its westernmost region in response to US plans for a missile shield in Europe.

And the President, Dmitry Medvedev, ordered the system to be activated on a visit to the radar unit in Kaliningrad, a Baltic region bordering the EU countries.

The unit is equipped with the new Voronezh-DM radar system.

Mr Medvedev has warned Russian missiles could be deployed on the EU's borders if the shield is installed.

The Russian Interfax news agency quotes Medvedev saying "If they have ignored this step, we will install another defense means, including taking strict action and disseminating strike force."

Medvedev spoke about the deployment of Alexander missiles, a modernized version of the mobile Scud land-to-land missile.

- "Russia today," quote from President, Dmitry Medvedev, on November 29 in 2011, activated the missile attack early warning radar operation system. Though he formally announced that the radar is not directed against the West, he initiated a similar system in response on the missile defense system deployment of in Europe.

- On 7/12/2011 (source Al Jazeera, quoting agencies) The Russian Chief of the General Staff said on Wednesday, 7/12/2011, that plans to build a European missile shield leave Russia with no option but to strengthen its defenses, adding that Moscow does not want a nuclear arms race.

Nikolai Makarov mention that the idea of a missile shield installed in Europe could exacerbate -quickly and dangerously- Russian tensions with NATO.

The Russian Foreign Minister, Sergei

Lavrov, on 7/12/2011 suggested in Vilnius, capital of Lithuania that Moscow is given written guarantees by NATO to confirm that the missile shield in Europe is not to make a threat against Russia.

This came when the foreign ministers of NATO member states sought to "calm things down" with Russia at the meeting of 7 and 8/12/2011 in Brussels.

And diplomatic sources said that the NATO members will confirm once again that the missile defense systems will continue, and also that they are not directed against Russia.

In a related context Russian President Dmitry Medvedev starts a one-day visit to Prague and he is going to discuss Moscow's stance over the anti-ballistic missile system in Europe. Meanwhile Russia has start to deploy its new weapon system in Kaliningrad region to keep the balance of power between the two sides, when the anti-ballistic missile system is operational.

- On 08.12.2011 (Source: ITAR-TASS -Publisher Russia Today) Sergei announced after the Russia-NATO meeting that Russia will not allow the US anti -ballistic missile system to be on any part of its land.

Knowing that a new radar will be establish in Turkey as part of the anti-ballistic missile that will overlook a large part of Russia ,he added that, "Russia has decided to guarantee its safety using its own ability".

Fifth: but this worsening of relations between Turkey and Russia as a result of Turkish approval to installed radars decreased late last year, specifically when Turkey approved the South Stream project on 28/12/2011, and there is a series of statements about the radars and the anti-ballistic missile system:

At the beginning of February 2012 the Committee for Euro-Atlantic Security suggested that the US, NATO states and Russia should cooperate in the arctic, regional conflict and energy issues, as well as anti-ballistic missile programmes.

The new suggestion that the Committee for Euro-Atlantic Security reached to a stage that the US, NATO and Russia might exchange intelligence about radars and satellites for early missile attack warning. Therefore, each side provides the other a clear picture of any attack. But each side remain responsible for bringing down any missiles that threaten it and will be responsible for its anti-ballistic missiles.

-On 29/02/2012 (source Russia Today, carried by "Itar-Tass," Russian news agency)

"On the other hand the Russian Deputy Foreign Minister, Ryabkov, pointed out that relations with NATO are poor, saying, "we are preparing to undertake anti -ballistic missile maneuvers in the theater of military operations." "I hope we receive good news about that," he added and went on to say that a decision about Russian participation in the NATO summit that is going to be held in May in Chicago is being studied." 07.03.2012 (Source Russia Today.)

Russian Defense Minister, Anatoly Serdyukov, said that the Ministry of Defense will organize an international conference about the anti-ballistic missile at the beginning of May and will invite all the concerned parties. This came after the conclusion of his meeting with his Ukrainian counterpart, Dmitry Solomattin, on 7 March in Moscow.

According to his words, he called for a conference of representatives from "all states concerned" and also experts from non-governmental organizations. And according to information from the Russian Ministry of Defense, the conference will be held during the period between 3-4 of May this year and the title of conference will be "Space and Defense Conference."

-- On 10/03/2012 (source Aljazeera from agency)

"The White House statement said that President Obama and the elected President Putin agreed -during a phone call -that it is necessary to work on a successful resetting of relations in the coming years. The statement added that the two leaders agreed to continue the discussions in the issues where there are differences between the two countries, including anti-ballistic missile systems."

From his side, one of Putin's assistant, said to the Russian news agency RIA Novosti that Obama spoke to Putin of his willingness to work closely with him.

Sixth: Thus, the tone of Russia has eased over the radar installations in Turkey. But even though its tone has eased from strong confrontation over the anti -ballistic missile systems, all eyes are on the discussion between Russia and NATO to resolve this issue quietly by negotiations and conferences, as well as joint maneuvers.

Therefore, it is more likely that the consent of Turkey on the South Stream project is almost a deal with Russia, to end Russian opposition to installing radars as part of the anti -ballistic missile system put forth by NATO.

Seventh: It is worthy of mention that the justifications made by the Turkish government to install radar is not considered an excuse, if the radars were under the supervision and leadership of the Turkish army, and they had nothing to have with NATO, or actually America, then it would be correct, for preparations to maintain the security of Muslims countries and their defense is required in Islam

﴿وَأَعِدُّوا لَهُمْ مَا اسْتَطَعْتُمْ مِنْ قُوَّةٍ﴾

“And make ready against them All You can of power...” But this is not the case at all, the project essentially an American idea, covered by NATO, to find a formal justification to Turkey for approval by considering it as a member of NATO. The purpose of this project is to protect the security of the American and European colonialist kuffar and their agents...

It is confirmed that the radar installation serves America's interest in origin and that is what was stated by the United States Army Europe and Seventh Army commander Mark Hertling, when he ...Cont. on p. 37

Ministry of Interior

General Command for the Peoples Armed Forces
Chairman of the Joint Chiefs
National Security and Intelligence Agency
Police Forces Command

Dear Respected Brothers:

We address you today when the Western Kuffar's agenda is on the verge of completely tearing down our country Sudan. This plan referred to as the Nevasha plan was signed in the year 2005 is the corner stone of their agenda. It was this evil plan that separated the southern Sudan and effectively detached from Sudan's authority. As for the 2011 referendum, it is merely to ascribe a semblance of 'legitimacy' to the nascent country and Kafir nations of the West are competing among themselves to build its capabilities. The US newspaper, Washington Post carried a statement by Ezekiel Jatcot, the representative of southern Sudan at the United Nations in which he said: "The United States is supporting the separation of the South and is pumping enormous sums of money to achieve that. It is contributing a sum of One billion dollars every year which is being spent on infrastructure development, training of security personnel, and for formation of an army capable of protecting the country." [Raid newspaper: 26.12.2009]. This statement follows the statement of the US envoy to Sudan Graishin who said: "Southern Sudan is not in a position to exercise authority in case of its separation from the North." The US Administration has paved way for forming a task force within the White House to resolve this problem, the Al Sahafah newspaper reported in its issue (no. 5933) the statement by the Minister of the Southern Sudan saying: "The US government has formed a small task force within the White House to oversee the building of capabilities for the South and prepare it for the result of the referendum." The Centre for German Foreign Policy has prepared a report based on the above and it is titled "Railways for Independence", it says: "The government of South is preparing itself for separation after the referendum in 2011 and looks forward to the new Juba-Mimisa railway line as an important revenue source for the new nation of Sudan." The study explains itself and says: "The constitution-in-waiting for (Southern Sudan) has already been prepared at the Max Blanc Institute for Foreign General Law and the International Law Institute in Heidelberg, Germany. [Al-Sahafah: 07.11.2009].

In addition to these, huge cache of arms and ammunition including armoured tanks and canons which enter through Kenya as disclosed in a study prepared by Institute of Small arms Survey in Geneva, Switzerland, it said:" Indeed, the army of the South, known as the Peoples Liberation Army of Sudan, has for the past two years accumulated light and heavy weapons mostly from Ukraine.

From among these weapons, 33 units of T72 Soviet-era tanks and several BM21 Rocket launchers were seized from aboard a Ukrainian ship which was hijacked by the Somali pirates for 4 months in September, 2008 which was on its way to southern Sudan passing through Kenya. The Jan's Defence Weekly report issued in July, 2009 carried a satellite photograph of North East Juba with a batch of T72 tanks.

Respected Brothers:

The Kafir West, i.e. The US and Europe has taken a decision to separate the southern portion and carve out Christian nation in it, but the Kafir West would have been able to put their scheme into reality unless they could find people who toe their line either unwittingly or wickedly. The history will certainly remember such persons with the worst and most detestable attributes- if, may Allah not allow it-they were to succeed in their evil plan to tear apart our country and separate the southern part.

We, the Hizb ut-Tahrir Wilayah Sudan do not either flatter or cheat, we have a covenant with Allah (swt) and we obey Him: and a covenant with Allâh must be answered for. [TMQ al-Ahzaab 33:15] Therefore we counsel all those who bear a responsibility to this effect, and they are:

All politicians who have been ensnared and trapped by the Kafir West and have been led to believe the Western view that that the people of the South have been persecuted as being 'other people' different from those of the North.

The Opposition forces at the Asmara Conference of Vital Issues of 1995, which called for the right of the southern Sudan to decide its own destiny.

The government which signed on the Declaration of Binding Principles and then later on signed the Protocol Mishakos and thereby recognized and acknowledged the South's right to determine its own destiny. Again it signed the Nevasha Declaration which is the roadmap of tearing apart Sudan and thereby separating the South.

The Opposition forces which have welcomed the Nevasha Accord. All those genuine forces who are capable of preventing this separation, be they from the Army, the Police force, the Security personnel or others, but have not stood up.

Respected Brothers:

When we, the Hizb ut-Tahrir Wilayah Sudan bring to you attention, this current agenda aimed at separating the southern Sudan and then disintegrating the rest of the country, we do not want you to be the blind followers and executors of the policies being propagated through the media under the charming garb of the so-called 'unity' which now stands thoroughly exposed and its bluff & deception has been denuded. Some of these have been asserted by us in our current letter addressed to you and some have been now acknowledged by the leaders of both parties who signed the accord:

Selvakeer, the head of the government in the South addressed the priest cadres Treisa at Juba on 31st October, 2009 and said: "When you reach the polling booths, you have the choice: Do you want to vote for unity which will condemn our homeland to a second class status in the country; or do you want to vote for independence, which will make you a liberated and independent person in the future nation."

Here is what al-Basheer, the President of the Republic said by celebrating the 5th anniversary of the Nevasha Accord told a gathering of the people of the South in the city of Yambio- Southern Sudan: "If you choose separation, we will be the first to recognize the Southern nation before the world recognizes you." Then he added: "We will not expel those people of the South who live in the North if they chose to reside there." Instead of warning them about separation, President al-Basheer is assuring them, can he still be called as sane?!

Respected Brothers:

The land of the South is not owned by the people of the South alone, it is an Islamic land which was opened by the Muslims soldiers and it remained under their authority and thus it was the Kharaaj land as decreed by 'Omar ibn al Khattab (r.a) who referred to the four Ayaat (7, 8, 9 &10) of Surah al Hashr, 'Omar (r.a) said: "Allah (swt) has declared that:

﴿ مَا أَفَاءَ اللَّهُ عَلَى رَسُولِهِ مِنْ أَهْلِ الْقُرَى فَلِلَّهِ وَلِلرَّسُولِ وَلِذِي الْقُرْبَىٰ وَالْيَتَامَىٰ وَالْمَسَاكِينِ وَابْنِ السَّبِيلِ ﴾

"What Allâh gave as booty (Fai') to His Messenger (Muhammad [saw] from the people of the townships - it is for Allâh, His Messenger (Muhammad [saw]), the kindred (of Messenger Muhammad [saw]), the orphans, Al-Masâkîn (the needy), and the wayfarer," [TMQ Al-Hashr: 59:007].

Then Allah (swt) said further:

﴿ لِلْفُقَرَاءِ الْمُهَاجِرِينَ ﴾

"And there is also a share in this booty) for the poor emigrants, who were expelled from their homes" [TMQ Al-Hashr: 59:008]

Then He was not content until He merged these lands, Allah (swt) says:

﴿وَالَّذِينَ تَبَوَّءُوا الدَّارَ وَالْإِيمَانَ مِنْ قَبْلِهِمْ يُحِبُّونَ مَنْ هَاجَرَ إِلَيْهِمْ﴾

"And those who, before them, had homes (in Al-Madinah) and had adopted the Faith, love those who emigrate to them," [Al-Hashr: 59:9]

This was specific for the Ansar alone, again He was not content until He merged these lands, Allah (swt) says:

﴿وَالَّذِينَ جَاءُوا مِنْ بَعْدِهِمْ﴾

"And those who came after them" [Al-Hashr: 59:10]

Hence this will apply to all those who followed, and they all will share the Fai' revenue, i.e. those lands which were not surrendered by the people but were opened and conquered, such lands will be owned by all the Muslims until the day of Judgement and the Khaleefah will distribute bounties of such to the people.

Thus the land of southern Sudan which the Muslims opened earlier is a Kha-raji land owned by under the Muslims Bait ul Maal from the people of the land must benefit, be they Muslims or Kafir. It is not permissible for anyone whosoever to concede it because he does not own it much less concede it to the kafir? Allah (swt) has forbidden for Kuffar to have their way over Muslims, He (swt) says:

﴿وَلَنْ يَجْعَلَ اللَّهُ لِلْكَافِرِينَ عَلَى الْمُؤْمِنِينَ سَبِيلًا﴾

"And never will Allâh grant to the disbelievers a way (to triumph) over the believers." [AnNisaa: 4:141]

Furthermore, Islam mandates the unification of all Muslim lands into a single state under one single Khaleefah and it does not permit two states or two Khaleefahs, the Prophet (saw) said:

﴿إِذَا بُويعَ لِخَلِيفَتَيْنِ فَأَقْتُلُوا الْآخَرَ مِنْهُمَا﴾

"If a Bay'ah has been taken for two Khaleefahs, kill the latter of them."

This has been reported by Muslim, thus the ruling system under Islam is a unitary system, so how can the Muslim land be disintegrated?! From the above, we can deduce that any tearing apart of the Muslim land is Haraam under the Shariah and it invokes the wrath of Allah (swt), in fact, it makes it obligatory to work in order to restore the unity of all Muslim lands torn apart and disintegrated by the Kuffar colonialists under the Sykes-Picot and other similar pacts.

Respected Brothers:

The disintegration of the Muslim lands at the hands of the Kuffar is a grave crime in the deen of Allah (swt), and the separation of southern Sudan from the rest of it is catastrophic for the people of Sudan from a realistic perception as well, consider the following:

First of all: The very use of the right to self determination through a referendum or plebiscite to separate a country represents a dangerous precedent for its unity. Thus any group of people living in it may demand the right to self determination following the example of the people of South. This will further exacerbate the situation in Darfur and some of the rebel leaderships may demand a similar right to self determination citing the example of southern Sudan. A seminar organised by the Peoples Movement in Karmic in February, 2010 called for self rule or a confederate status for the Blue Nile province. Reliable sources have revealed in another document that the armed movements of Darfur as well as the French intelligence of France, Israel, Uganda and America have met in the resort town (New Side) in the South and have reached an agreement to relocate the headquarters of armed movements from Chad and France to the southern Sudan in order to facilitate taking delivery of arms and to provide logistical support to the movements through Uganda onto Darfur. Their agreement also calls for establishing military bases to train the movements' personnel at Bahr al Ghazal near the Darfur border with the Central Africa. This meeting was attended by Khaleel Ibrahim, the head of Justice and Equality Movement; Abdel Wahid Mohammed Nour, the head of the Sudan Liberation Movement as well as representatives of other movements. This pact has set a deadline of 27th????, 2010 to open a military camp at Shambi in the city of Owail for the forces of Abdel Wahid that are present in various southern cities.

Secondly: The separation of South, which is about one-third of the country and is rich in resources, would result in a misbalance, both real and visible in the resource-rich south which has petrol, minerals, forests, rivers and pastures etc. and which constitutes 79.50% of the total petroleum production. Some 85% of total petroleum reserves are concentrated in the South.

Third: The separation of the South would mean that the Muslim of Sudan have abandoned their Muslim brethren living in South and handed them over to the Kuffar, whereas Allah (swt) has forbidden that Kuffar have any sort of way over the Muslims when he said:

﴿وَلَنْ يَجْعَلَ اللَّهُ لِلْكَافِرِينَ عَلَى الْمُؤْمِنِينَ سَبِيلًا﴾

"And never will Allâh grant to the disbelievers a way (to triumph) over the believers." [AnNisaa: 4: 141]

Even before the separation of the South, the forces of the Peoples Movement have occupied the al-Kastum mosque, demolished the minaret and converted it into their residence. They have occupied several other mosques in the past and converted them into wine factories? We must take lesson from the horrid and frightening photographs the Al-Jazeera channel broadcast on 9th February, 2010 from Nigeria depicting how a police state killed

Muslims by shooting them in the head merely for saying that their Lord and Master is Allah (swt).

Fourth: The separation of South means that doors to the regions of African continent immersed in the darkness of polytheism and sin are closed for the Muslims, what are we going to answer to on the Day of Judgement to Allah (swt) who has made us as the best of the nations and said:

كُنْتُمْ خَيْرَ أُمَّةٍ أُخْرِجَتْ لِلنَّاسِ تَأْمُرُونَ بِالْمَعْرُوفِ وَتَنْهَوْنَ عَنِ الْمُنْكَرِ وَتُؤْمِنُونَ بِاللَّهِ وَلَوْ آمَنَ أَهْلُ
الْكِتَابِ لَكَانَ خَيْرًا لَهُمْ مِنْهُمُ الْمُؤْمِنُونَ وَأَكْثَرُهُمُ الْفَاسِقُونَ

"You (true believers in Islâmic Monotheism, and real followers of Prophet Muhammad [saw] and his Sunnah) are the best of peoples ever raised up for mankind; you enjoin Al-Ma'rûf (i.e. Islâmic Monotheism and all that Islâm has ordained) and forbid Al-Munkar (polytheism, disbelief and all that Islâm has forbidden), and you believe in Allâh. And had the people of the Scripture (Jews and Christians) believed, it would have been better for them; among them are some who have Faith, but most of them are Al-Fâsiqûn (disobedient to Allâh and rebellious against Allâh's Command)." [Aal Imraan: 3:110]

And He (swt) also made us the Moderate Ummah who bear witness that we have conveyed the message of Islam to the entire world:

﴿وَكَذَلِكَ جَعَلْنَاكُمْ أُمَّةً وَسَطًا لِتَكُونُوا شُهَدَاءَ عَلَى النَّاسِ وَيَكُونَ الرَّسُولُ عَلَيْكُمْ شَهِيدًا﴾

"Thus We have made you [true Muslims-real believers of Islâmic Monotheism, true followers of Prophet Muhammad [sal-Allâhu 'alayhi wa sallam] and his Sunnah (legal ways)], a just (and the best) nation, that you will be witnesses over mankind and the Messenger (Muhammad [saw]) will be a witness over you." [Al-Baqarah: 2: 143]

Fifth: The separation of South means that we have abandoned the obligation on us to administer the people of South (both Muslims as well as Kuffar), the Prophet (saw) said: "The Imam is a guardian and is responsible over his subjects."

Thus as per the statistics for the year 2009, issued by the United Nations, 2500 persons were killed and some 350,000 were forced to migrate because of tribal conflicts in the South, and since the beginning of this year, some 160 people have been killed while 22 women have been gang-raped in the Buhairaat region!

Sixth: The separation of South means the erection of separating wall which will prevent the movement of tribes of Tumas like the Masiriyyah, the Ru-zaiqat and others who enter to deep interiors of the South along with their cattle in search of water and pastures in the summer season. Moreover, with the presence of the armed tribes, the separation would entail squandering not only the life and properties of the Muslims, but their other sanctities as well, because the separation would place these tribes at the mercy of the nascent state.

Seventh: The separation of South would mean breakdown of agricultural land of Tumas, and this was pointed by Ateem Fareeq, a leader of the Peoples Movement in the al Sharq al Awsat newspaper (issue 11373) where he said: "The people of the North have been cultivating the lands in the South from the earliest times, like in the region of Ar-Rank and Kudok and in case of separation, the new state will inevitable have to consider the matter to ensure that they have access to these fields or search for an alternative source of food security in the South.

Respected Brothers:

Such is the reality of separating the South, both from the Shara'ii perspective wherew it is ideologically forbidden, as well as from a reality perspective which is fraught with perils.

As for those who are trying to consolidate the separation of South by referring to two different people, we can tell them the following:

Ever since the inception of history, human beings have lived as tribes and races under a single authority, and therefore two people living together is no new phenomena and in the State established by the Prophet (saw) in Madeenah on the principle of Islam, the people of Aws as well as Khazraj lived together with the migrants (Muhajireen) and the Jews etc. Moreover, under the Islamic State whose rule extended over thirteen centuries, the Arabs lived with the Persians, the Berbers, the Turks and several others and their own ethnic racial identity did not interfere with their living together, instead they all fused into a homogenous body thanks to the great melting pot of Islam. And in the United States of America which is the leader of the Capitalist world today, people from all over the planets live. So if Muslim people of Arab origin live with other Muslims of African origin, many of whom are not Muslims, it does not pose any problem, rather ignoring the administration of peoples' affairs is the problem which results in oppression.

The oppression that people have been suffering is caused by maladministration of their affairs and this can only be corrected through a just and fair political ideology that ensures that their basic needs of food, clothing, shelter, healthcare, education and their security are met and they are empowered to pursue any of their luxurious wants. This is only done under the ideology of Islam's ruling system of Khilafah which has been sent down and decreed by the All-knowing and Wise, Allah (swt).

The disintegration of land does not remove oppression, rather it results in weakness and polarization and furthers weakens on racial and ethnic lines.

There are over 3 million southerners presently living in the North of Sudan who migrated over during the war who are employed by their brethren of the North. There are more than 30 schools in areas with southerner majority and this alone is sufficient to refute the claim that it is a conflict between two peoples pitted against each other.

And here you have the survey conducted by the Al Sharq Al Awsat newspaper on 17th January, 2010 among the people of the South living in the Capital of Sudan: A professor of physics in a university comments: "It is the elite among the southerners who call for the separation." Another lamented: "I have just returned from a journey covering most parts of southern Sudan aimed at gauging the opinion of the people on the issue of separation. I found that they are not even aware of the subject at all, they only talked about development and progress." Another person remarked: "Tell the politicians to go away and leave us alone in peace here! In the light of all these, the separation of South from the North is not the chosen option of the Southerners; it does not solve their problems. It only compounds the problems of suffering of the people in the country and leads both the North and the South to a war between them in which no one can emerge as victorious.

Respected Brothers:

We, Hizb ut-Tahrir Wilayah Sudan address you in your capacity as the people of power and protection who have first of all a responsibility in the eyes of Allah (swt) and then to His servants and that responsibility is to protect the country and prevent its disintegration. This is your duty to which you have taken oath and this responsibility which is on your necks obligates you to confront the Western Kuffar who are bent upon separating the South from the North of Sudan and then tearing apart the rest of the country. So will you not recognize the good and respond to the caller of all that is good?

Your blood must curdle in your nerves and you must stand up to confront the planners of this separation, all the creatures of the earth and heavens will bear testimony to your action.

Will you not get up to resolve and prevent the separation and your names will appear in the books of history in golden letters. Have you not pledged to protect the integrity and security of Sudan?

﴿يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا اسْتَجِيبُوا لِلَّهِ وَلِلرَّسُولِ إِذَا دَعَاكُمْ لِمَا يُحْيِيكُمْ﴾

“O you who believe! Answer Allâh (by obeying Him) and (His) Messenger when he [saw] calls you to that which will give you life,” [Al-Anfaal: 8:24]□

Tunis reopens ancient Islamic college to counter radicals:

The school at Tunisia's 8th-century Zaitouna Mosque, one of the world's leading centers of Islamic learning, was closed by independence leader and secularist strongman Habib Bourguiba in 1964 as part of an effort to curb the influence of religion. Its ancient university was merged with the state's Tunis University. The college reopened its ancient doors to students on Monday, part of a drive by religious scholars and activists to revive Zaitouna's moderate brand of Islam, which once dominated North Africa, and counter the spread of more radical views. "The return of this religious educational beacon is very important in light of the increased religious extremism that we are living with," said Fathi al-Khamiri, who heads a pressure group that obtained a court order allowing the school to reopen. "The aim is to restore Zaitouna's educational and religious role in Tunisia and North Africa in order to spread the principles of moderate religion." Zaitouna once rivaled Egypt's Al Azhar as a centre of Islamic learning, and during the golden age of Islam generations of leading Islamic thinkers studied logic, philosophy, medicine and grammar as well as theology within its walls. □

Muslim Brotherhood officials aim to promote moderate image in Washington visit:

Members of Egypt's Muslim Brotherhood began a week-long charm offensive in Washington on Tuesday, meeting with White House officials, policy experts and others to counter persistent fears about the group's emergence as the country's most powerful political force. The revolution that ousted Hosni Mubarak has rapidly transformed the Brotherhood from an opposition group that had been formally banned into a political juggernaut controlling nearly half the seats in Egypt's newly elected parliament. With its rise, however, have come concerns from Egypt's secularists as well as U.S. officials that the Islamist group could remake the country, threatening the rights of women and religious minorities. Such fears were only exacerbated by the Brotherhood's recent decision to field a candidate in upcoming presidential elections, despite previous pledges that it would not do so. In meeting with U.S. officials, Brotherhood representatives were expected to depict the organization as a moderate and socially conscious movement pursuing power in the interest of Egyptians at large. "We represent a moderate, centrist Muslim viewpoint.

The priorities for us are mainly economic, political - preserving the revolution ideals of social justice, education, security for the people," Sondos Asem, a member of the delegation, said Tuesday in an interview with reporters and editors of The Washington Post. In the interview, members of the delegation defended the decision by the group's political wing, the Freedom and Justice Party, to field a presidential candidate. "We approached people outside of the Brotherhood that we respected, like people in the judiciary, but none of them would agree to be nominated," said Khaled al-Qazzaz, foreign relations coordinator for the party. Qazzaz and others said that a candidate elected from outside the Brotherhood could have instituted radical changes and dissolved the parliament. But the Brotherhood's rise has caused it to spar with liberal and secular groups. Liberals and Coptic Christians who were chosen to be part of the effort to draw up a new constitution recently walked out of meetings in protest, saying the body was unbalanced, with an overwhelming number of representatives from Islamist groups such as the Brotherhood. "We believe there is a dire attempt to hinder efforts of the constitutional assembly because its success would mean that we are on the right track, that the democracy is working and government is changing," Asem said. In addition to allaying American fears about their political ambitions, the Brotherhood is hoping to mend U.S.-Egypt relations in the aftermath of Egypt's decision to prosecute American and Egyptian pro-democracy advocates. Outrage over the prosecutions had prompted lawmakers to press the Obama administration to withhold $1.3 billion in U.S. aid to Egypt's military. "This mistrust is a wall that needs to come down, but it can't just be one side that brings it down. It has to be both sides," said Abdul Mawgoud R. Dardery, a lawmaker and member of the Brotherhood delegation. □

Russian Foreign Minister: Hillary's 'Friends of Syria' undermines peace process:

The actions of Friends of Syria group of states jeopardize realization of the UN peace plan for Syria, undermining international efforts to end violence in the country, Russian FM Sergey Lavrov said. "Everybody backed [Kofi] Annan's [peace] plan," he noted. "Then all of a sudden another meeting of the Friends of Syria group makes decisions, urging [the Syrian] opposition to refuse negotiations and arm, promising new sanctions [against Syria]." Lavrov stressed this undermines actions to stop violence in the country that the Friends of Syria want to deal with the Syrian opposition only, making the deadlock irresolvable. While the UN tries to solve the Syrian situation peacefully, the Friends of Syria summit announced plans that threaten to make the UN's effort in vain. The US has announced it is going to spend $12 million on the Syrian opposition, twice as much as it promised before. The Gulf States of Saudi Arabia and Qatar expressed readiness to pay salaries to the armed opposition members, making them look more like an army of mercenaries than opposition activists. Earlier, these two countries spoke in favour of arming the Syrian opposition so as it can "defend" itself against the regular army of Syria. □

In UK riots may be controlled with chemicals weapons:

Future riots could be quelled by projectiles containing chemical irritants fired by police using new weapons that are now in the final stages of development. The Discriminating Irritant Projectile (Dip) has been under development by the Home Office's centre for applied science and technology (Cast) as a potential replacement for plastic bullets. Documents obtained by the English newspaper Guardian reveal that last summer's riots in England provided a major impetus to Home Office research into new-generation riot control technology, ranging from the Dip to even more curious weaponry described by Cast technicians as "skunk oil". The briefing by Cast for the Police Service of Northern Ireland says that last year's disorder sparked a surge of ideas to the Home Office from the public as well as companies manufacturing police technology. To capitalise on the interest, Cast convened a "brainstorming" event in October. Participants included police from

London and Northern Ireland, the Police Federation, the Serious Organised Crime Agency (Soca) and the Ministry of Defence's Defence Science and Technology Laboratory. "No ideas too stupid or 'off the wall' to consider," the briefing notes record. It is understood that the Dip, which was originally supposed to have been introduced in 2010, would be loaded with CS gas, pepper spray or another irritant. Other parts of the briefing, released under the Freedom of Information Act, refer to a need in the short term by police to develop "counter laser dazzle" technology to protect officers from being dazzled by people using lasers like those used in recent Greek riots. □

US calls for support of Yemeni President's military changes:

The U.S. called for support of new Yemeni President Abdurabu Mansur Hadi after forces loyal to ousted leader Ali Abdullah Saleh shelled an opposition general's house in response to Hadi removing some military commanders. The U.S. welcomes Hadi's "civilian and military personnel transfers as part of the ongoing political transition in Yemen," State Department acting spokesman Mark Toner said in an e-mailed statement released late yesterday in Washington. "In spite of those who seek to derail the transition, President Hadi has demonstrated strong leadership by steadfastly implementing the agreed-upon political settlement." Forces loyal al to Saleh shelled the house of Major General Ali Mohsen al-Ahmar, commander of the First Armored Division, without causing injuries, Abdulghani al-Shameri, the spokesman for the general, said in a phone interview yesterday. Forces loyal to the air force commander closed Sana'a airport and threatened to shoot down any aircraft taking off, Al Arabiya television reported yesterday, citing its correspondent. Hadi, who was elected president of the Arab world's poorest country in February, is implementing the most sweeping changes to the armed forces after Saleh agreed in November to relinquish power under a Gulf-brokered peace plan. The Gulf Cooperation Council called on all political parties in Yemen to support Hadi "in moving forward" with the Gulf plan, Abdullatif al-Zayani, secretary-general of the six-member group, said yesterday in an e-mailed statement. The GCC supports all measure taken by Hadi to get "out of the current crisis," al-Zayani said. □

US Crusader looking to stay in Afghanistan beyond 2014:

US and Afghan defense chiefs on Tuesday discussed the future of American troops in Afghanistan after 2014, with both sides calling for a long-term security partnership. US Defense Leon Panetta hosted Afghan Defense Minister Abdul Rahim Wardak and Interior Minister Bismillah Khan Mohammadi at the Pentagon two days after Washington and Kabul signed a deal putting Afghans in charge of controversial night raids, removing a major obstacle to a security pact governing the US military's future presence beyond 2014. "We are looking forward to an enduring, long-term cooperation (with the United States)," Wardak said in English at the start of the meeting. "We can say that it is vital for the survival of our country in that volatile, dangerous neighborhood," he said.

Panetta, with top US military officer General Martin Dempsey at his side, said he looked forward to discussing "our ability to arrive at a strategic partnership agreement that will again be another step forward in our relationship." The Pentagon chief called the newly-signed memorandum on night operations a milestone in a gradual handover from NATO to Afghan security forces, scheduled to be complete by the end of 2014. "The fact that we were able to achieve an agreement I think was a very important step forward to ensure that we will make the transition to Afghan operations, but we will do it in a responsible and effective way," Panetta said. He said the two sides would discuss the future of Afghan security forces, including the troop levels that will be reached in a short-term "surge" and "ultimately the levels you can sustain in the future." □

O Muslims of Pakistan!

At a time when the world is rejecting the injustice of capitalism, we here present to you just some of the blessed economic solutions from Islam that Hizb ut Tahrir has pledged to implement and you will see them soon practically in the form of the Khilafah inshaaAllah. So, gather around the sincere and aware politicians of Hizb ut Tahrir and demand from your fathers, brothers and sons in Pakistan's Armed Forces to grant the Nussrah to Hizb ut Tahrir for the immediate establishment of the Khilafah. Only then will the immense wealth in the Muslim Lands, oil, gas, gold and agricultural lands, become the fuel for an economic revolution, propelling the Khilafah to become the leading economic state, as it was for over a thousand years previously. Allah (swt) said,

كَيْ لَا يَكُونَ دُولَةً بَيْنَ الْأَغْنِيَاءِ مِنْكُمْ

"It is so that the wealth does not circulate solely among the wealthy from amongst you." [Surah Al-Hashr 59:07]□

kufr system is Hizb ut Tahrir which is presenting an alternate system to the Ummah. For this reason, instead of arresting the friendly opposition, the real opposition, members of Hizb ut Tahrir, are being arrested, kidnapped and tortured. The Shaabaab of Hizb will continue their peaceful struggle of exposing the agent rulers and spreading awareness amongst the Ummah, whatever difficulties they may face. It is to be noted here also, that Hizb ut Tahrir has challenged the Illegal and un-Islamic ban against its activities for the last six years. But the so-called "Independent" Judiciary has resorted to delaying tactics so that these rulers can continue with the arrests and torture of members of Hizb ut Tahrir. And we want to let these agents and their thugs know, that Hizb ut Tahrir would continue its intellectual and political struggle until the sincere from within the Armed Forces give Nussrah to Hizb ut Tahrir for the re-establishment of the Khilafah.□

"The Islamic system of governance, under the Caliphate, promotes the idea of an elected, accountable leader; where minority religions have protection under the constitution; where the laws are derived from the Shari'ah, so cannot be influenced by the corporate elite; where the rule of law is paramount and applies to all - including the Khaleefah; where corruption must be rooted out, unlike in his democratic system which encourages it."

"The reason Britain, the United States, and other capitalist states are so dishonest and hypocritical on issues of Islam, freedom, democracy and dictatorship, is that a real Islamic government would end the West's colonial hold on Muslim countries; and end their use of international institutions to keep themselves strong at the expense of others."

Question and Answer

announced on 27/2/2012, in his first statement about this subject, regarding American soldiers and military experts based in the radar station in Malatya, "our troops have settled in the radar station in South Turkey." He said this from Podgorica, capital of Montenegro, adding, "I can only speak for the ground-based air defense units. But I will tell you that we constantly coordinate (with the US Navy and Air Force), and I think we are well on track to conducting missile defense."

It is clear from him that the actual sovereignty of the radar station is for the US Air Force and Navy alone. This grants authority to the colonialist kuffar in the lands of the Muslims. Allah swt says:

"and never will Allâh does not permit the Believers to grant Kuffar authority over them" i.e. the participation of Turkey with NATO is not of equals, but its reality is the reality of a commander and follower ... But even if it was a real participation, it is not permissible in Islam, because the co-operation with the kuffar is haraam and a great sin, the Messenger of Allah peace be upon him said: "إِنَّا لَا نَسْتَعِينُ بِمُشْرِكٍ" Surely we do not seek help from the Mushriq.

Book of the Month:

Terrorism:

Since the United States has identified Islam as her greatest enemy after the fall of communism, the Islamic countries are now seen as strategic areas in which she will use the anti-terrorism law in order to increase her influence and keep them under control. This is because Muslims are now seeking the path of revival to re-establish the Khilafah, which the United States and other Kufr nations know to be the only State capable of destroying the capitalist ideology, which America heads.

This is why we will find no Islamic movements that have not been labelled as terrorist by the United States. Even political parties and movements that do not use material actions to realise their objectives are not exempt from this label. Thus the United States considers the activity of any movement, party or state calling for the return of Islam as a terrorist action breaching international law. With this justification, and by compelling those nations who have adopted the anti-terrorism legislation, she is able to mobilise the forces of these nations under her leadership to strike these movements, parties or states.

Interfaith Dialogue:

After the failure of the Western Kuffar in distancing the Muslims from their Aqeedah via the missionaries, orientalist, cultural works, the media, intellectual and political deception, they resorted to government authorities in their countries and in the countries of their agents. The primary aim that the capitalists are working to achieve from the dialogue between religions and Hadharah is to prevent the return of Islam to life's affairs as a comprehensive system. This is because it threatens the survival of their ideology and Hadharah and will destroy their interests and influence.

This will make it easy for them to remove the Islamic culture from the minds of the people. They aim to achieve that by shaking the confidence of Muslims in the Islamic culture and in its sources and principles. They aim to neutralise Islam in the clash of civilisations by stripping it of its most important characteristics which distinguish it from other religions, namely the political aspect with which the Khilafah would be established to look after the affairs of the people according to the rules of Islam and carry it to the whole of mankind.

Compromise:

It is a foreign term whose source is the West and the Capitalist ideology, that ideology whose creed is based on the compromise solution. This solution arose as a result of the bloody conflict between the Church and its subordinate kings on one side, and the new breed of Western thinkers and philosophers on the other side. The former group viewed Christianity as capable of solving all of life's affairs. The second group took the view that Christianity was incapable of doing this, and considered it the cause of much humiliation and backwardness. They saw the human mind as the only entity that could produce a system capable of organising life's affairs and dealing with any problems that could arise.

Thus the middle position or compromise solution is an idea that is alien to Islam. The Western nations and those Muslims loyal to them have attached this idea to Islam to sell it to the Muslims in the name of moderation and tolerance, intending to deviate the sincere Muslims from the clearly defined rules and limits of Islam.

Fundamentalism:

Fundamentalism emerged in Europe as a reaction to scientific and industrial progress that came after the separation of Christianity from life's affairs. It emerged because of the inability of Christianity to respond to the new systems of life, which are derived from the Capitalist creed, the creed of separating religion from life. This pushed the believers in the Christian faith to adopt a stance rejecting the various forms of material progress and Capitalist culture. However this movement, fundamentalism, failed and disappeared due to its inability to present practical solutions for life's problems, and because of the reason for its establishment, i.e. the resistance to scientific progress, and those disciplines and thoughts which the Christians did not agree with or believe in.

This description is dangerous to every Muslim and every movement fighting injustice and occupation. It is dangerous to every party working according to the Shari'ah methodology to resume the Islamic way of life. This is because the aim of this description is to create legal justifications to attack anyone calling for the re-establishment of Islam in life's affairs, under the pretext that Islam is a fundamentalist movement. The foundations of fiqh are the principles on which fiqh is based, which the Mujtahid uses to derive practical Shara'i rules from their detailed evidences.

Globalisation:

The aim is to develop on their basis the necessity of bringing in foreign money and work. It is intended to adopt the advice of the advocates of globalisation, changes to the country's laws and the privatisation of its state institutions to enable such advocates to buy these institutions. In their view, there is no other option if the Muslims want to join the procession in a world that has agreed on the globalisation of money and work, otherwise we will remain backward. No one should ignore the effect of these claims, propaganda and the cover of globalisation that conceals them in a country where people are dominated by ignorance and who depend on the state media for their opinions. □

On the authority of Abu Najih Al-Erbadh bin Sariah, who said,

The Messenger of Allah (saw) gave us a sermon by which our hearts were filled with fear and tears came to our eyes. We said, "O Messenger of Allah, it is as though this is a farewell sermon, so counsel us." He said, "I counsel you to fear Allah and to give absolute obedience even if a slave becomes your leader. Verily he among you who lives [long] will see great controversy, so you must keep to my Sunnah and to the Sunnah of the rightly-guided Khalifahs - cling to them stubbornly. Beware of newly invented matters, for every invented matter is an innovation and every innovation is a going astray, and every going astray is in Hell-fire." Related by Abu Dawud and Al-Tirmithi
